CYCLERS' NINE

Defeated in Saturday's Game at Lebanon, 8 to 1.

The Threading City Cyclers' baseball team could not cope with the nine from Lebanon on the Meeting House green in that village Saturday afternoon and came home with a 8-1 defeat. The team had good batteries, but the Cyclers need a whole lot of fielding practice. Several of the local boys say that the field was new to them and that this made some difference in their fielding averages. The hits were even—two apiece—but the umpire, Mr. Jones, robbed them of another hit and a run. Manley, the slab artist for the Cyclers, drove a home run which was the only single, although he placed his other single in the same spot but was not given credit for it.

Causeless Fire Alarm.

Box 61 was rung in about 4.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the alarm quickly went to the corner of Milk and Union streets to the place of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. O'Neil. There was no water nor chemical used as there was no need of it. The cause of the department's being called out was the falling of a lamp, fastening of a water tank which was a little too hot. No material damage was done.

DAY OF ACCIDENTS

But Willimantic Won in Contest with New London, 7-5.

Still another game was added to the "Champion" list Saturday afternoon when the Whalers with Reizer in the box, succumbed to the Colts at Windham field before one of the best crowds of the season.
The game was what might be termed an accidental game from the unusual number of minor casualties that occurred to bring the fans to their toes in an expectant manner. Roger Connor was the first to be laid up temporarily, his injury coming in the second inning as he awaited the throw from right field to catch Patrick Connor, but got it in a vital part of his anatomy. O'Mara was the next to cause the game to be temporarily held up by reason of the fact of Paddy Sullivan scoring in the third from third base on a sacrifice fly to Shaun Sullivan. O'Mara braced himself for the throw, but realizing that it was coming a little low and short attempted to move forward and Sullivan, who was running so swiftly, threw the ball and knocked him to the ground. O'Mara sustaining a broken tooth and a badly cut lip. Sullivan's right hand was cut on the tooth as he broke it.

Smith, the slab artist for the Colts, had his troubles next, when in the eighth with two men down Roger Connor sent a scorching grounder to him which he knocked down, recovered and threw to first and then fell to the ground. The ball was in the air when he was hit. The ball had struck his knuckles so hard as to almost break a couple of fingers, but after an examination by Dr. O'Neil he pluckily finished out the game—he having packed his hand in ice during the time that the Colts were at bat. While Patrick was at bat a foul tip took Empire Sullivan in the left shoulder, hitting it with great force, and then on the next ball pitched another foul tip was shot from the bat and cracked Catcher Griffin in the right knee and nearly dislocated that joint.

While the game was mirrored by a number of costly errors on both sides there was plenty of excitement and close hitting that added life to the contest. Reizer, supposed to be one of the premier pitchers of the league, got his bumps in pretty good shape—ten nice hits being peddled off his delivery. He had fairly good control but succeeded in fanning but four, while Lefty Smith, although more wild, passing ten hits and winning out eleven of the heavy artillery couple.

Battling honors for the day went to Reizer, Burns, Cannon and John Sullivan. Mike Sullivan, an old Eastern leaguer and popular catcher, handled the indicator again in excellent fashion and followed by a close play, giving complete satisfaction to the fans who really knew anything about the game and players of both teams generally.

It was announced that the Coe Brass or Waterbury Connecticut league team would play on the same grounds the following Saturday.

middle of the week and that the strong Litchfield nine with Deescher, the suspended Cincinnati southpaw who has had such remarkable good fortune as to win something like thirty odd games thus far this season with but two defeats, in the box, would be the attraction on Windham field next Saturday.
